EVERYBODY SURPRISED AT THE WONDERFUL VALUES OFFERED AT THE HURRY-UP SALE. Not a person disappointed. Not a sale made but what has made another friend and "Booster" for the sale. Not an article sold for anywhere near its actual value. Never before such a complete surrender of values. Never before could you buy so much for so little money.

We are doing a wonderful business because we are giving wonderful values and because the public know they can depend upon those who have the sale in charge. Everyone is so agreeably surprised at the remarkable values that they buy liberally and they go home and tell their friends and neighbors of their great bargains, and so the good news has spread.

If you call and see the excellent Bargains of High Grade Merchandise which we are now offering, you'll so convince yourself that it will Pay You Well to buy during this Hurry-Up Sale.

AROUND THE TOWN

Mrs. S. R. Wood is visiting friends in the Acme district.

Miss Eva Sexsmith came down from Red Deer on Thursday to spend the holidays with her parents.

Mrs. J. R. Good was visiting in Edmonton for a few days over the week end.

Geo. Smith is erecting a house for A. G. Howe in the north end of town and also one for Chris. Noehren on his place east of town.

Morning and evening service will be held at the English church on Sunday, June 2nd, at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Rev. Cox Clark will conduct the services.

Miss Sally Spillard wishes to thank, through the medium of this paper, all the friends who so kindly contributed toward the present of the traveling cloak which she received last week.

Those who were prize winners at the recent celebration and who hold winners' cheques are requested to present same at once to Mr. Cole at the Union Bank and receive payment so that this business can be settled.

Messrs. John Adam of Ingersoll, Ont., and Alec G. Adam of Marlette, Mich., arrived in Didsbury on Friday last on a visit to their brother Mr. W. C. Adam west of town. They are taking a tour of Western Canada and will go home by way of Edmonton.

The many friends of Mrs. James Reed will be glad to learn that she is much better of her illness and was brought home from Calgary hospital on Friday last.

A. G. Studer, W. M., and R. Hollinger, P. M., of King Hiram Lodge A. F. & A. M., left for Edmonton on Wednesday morning to attend the Masonic Grand Lodge now being held in that city.

Mrs. J. Good, mother of Messrs. J. B. and Moses Good, came down from Edmonton on Monday with Mrs. J. B. Good for a visit. Her many friends in the district will be glad to learn that she has recovered her health.

Mr. James Burns of Solon had a runaway in town on Thursday morning last. He had just reached the livery barns and dropped the lines to unhitch when the team ran away. The buggy was a little the worse for the mishap otherwise there was no damage done.

Miss Sallie Spillard was on Thursday last made the recipient of a nice traveling cloak by the members of the English church congregation as a token of their appreciation of her work of the past months as organist of the church.

We wish to remind our advertisers that all changes for advertisements must be in this office by Tuesday noon of each week to insure insertion in that week. We have to have some system in our business as well as in your own, consequently you can help us by abiding by the above request.

WHAT TO DO RIGHT NOW

Practical Suggestions by W. J. Glass,
Macleod, Alberta

(Written especially for the International Dry-Farming Congress Bulletin, "Dry-Farming.")

In answer to your inquiry as to what to do on the farm right now, I will say now is the time to get busy and work, get our seed into the soil (especially wheat), so that it will be matured before the frost.

We should have done our letter writing and studying during the winter. Nevertheless, I will give a few hints as to how I work my land to prepare a seed bed and preserve the moisture, and also my opinions as regards the best periods to sow different cereals.

We all know that practically no fall plowing was done last year, therefore our land has either to be plowed this spring, or just disced and drilled. On account of such a short time and so much work to be done, and plowing taking longer than discing, the question arises: "Is it necessary to plow or will discing do?"

Plow Every Year

I am a firm believer in plowing every year, except on new land which has only had one crop taken from it and is not well rotted. Land in this condition is clear (free from weeds) could be disced a couple of times and seeded with fairly good results, although, as a rule, one does not get as large a yield.

Immediately after plowing use the packer, the same day if possible; the sooner after plowing the better. This is to keep the land from drying out. If you haven't a packer, use a float. If you haven't a float, use a disc. A float is a simple affair made by bolting four, five or six 2 x 10x14 or 16 planks together, letting the second lap the first, and so on until you get the required size.

Of course, if you find your float is not heavy enough, you can weight it down with stones—Oh! I forgot, not many farmers have stones on their land; well, old iron or anything with weight will do.

Methods of Cultivation

Now, as to the cultivation needed after packing or floating before drilling, all depends on condition of the soil. If very lumpy, disc, if not, the harrow will do. It should be cultivated until no lumps remain bigger than a hen's egg.

I would not in any case advise using any implements after seeding that leaves the surface of the ground smooth, as this aids evaporation, and also leaves the land powdery on top, and the wind is likely to blow the soil.

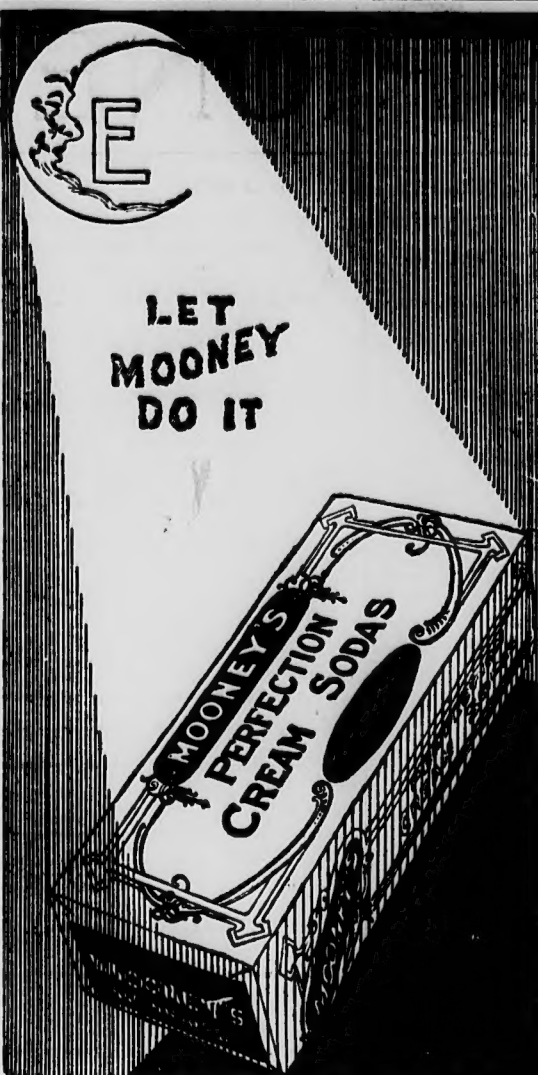

As to the time of seeding, I believe from April 1st until the end of the first week in May it is safe to sow wheat. After that date I would sow oats or barley until the end of May. Land that I had not seeded by that time, I would summer fallow. I prefer to sow my oats and barley the last week in April or the first week of May and be through seeding by May 15th.

Summer Fallowing

Just a word about summer fallow. Do not leave your summer fallow too late, but plow in June. By leaving the weeds grow they take plant food and moisture from the soil.

Be sure and treat your grain for smut. I treat with formalin at the rate of one pound to 35 gallons of water. I have never had any smut, but I treat as a preventive. If your grain is smutty, make your solution stronger.

The system I follow is to pour 4 or 5 bushels of grain in a wagon box,

DON'T think that concrete can be used only for building bridges, silos, walls and walks; because if you do, you will probably overlook all the places where you can use it now.

T. L. Irving, of North Georgetown, Quebec, used concrete for 81 different purposes on his farm in 1911.

There are probably at least a dozen profitable uses for concrete on your farm at the present moment.

Perhaps you haven't thought of Concrete, except for a new barn, or a silo, or some other big improvement for which you aren't quite ready yet. That's why you should read

"What The Farmer Can Do With Concrete"

It will open your eyes to the hundreds of uses that other farmers have found for this material. In plain language, and with the aid of many photographs, it explains just what these uses are, and how they can be applied to your farm.

Concrete can not only be used for all the purposes to which wood has been applied, but also many others for which wood would never be suitable.

It is not only a building material; it's a "handy" material, something that you'll grow to depend upon more and more, as you learn its possibilities.

So write for this book. You'll find it isn't a catalogue, nor an argument for you to buy our cement. Every one of its 160 pages is devoted to telling you what farmers have done and can do with concrete.

A Trial Treatment of Cuticura Soap and Ointment Free to Skin Sufferers

If you, or someone dear to you, are suffering the itching, burning, sleep-destroying torments of eczema or other cruel skin eruption, with its embarrassing, unsightly disfigurement; if you have tried all manner of treatment, no matter how harsh, to no avail, and have all but given up hope of cure, write to-day for a liberal sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Thousands of skin-tortured sufferers, from infancy to age, have found that the first warm bath with Cuticura Soap and gentle application of Cuticura Ointment bring instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and prove the first steps in a speedy and successful treatment. sprinkle with ordinary garden sprinkler the solution over the grain and stir until kernels are all moist, then shovel to the front end of the wagon box; then another lot, and so on. Cover up with a canvas for a couple of hours, and then spread out to dry. Haul the wagon out to the field and fill the drill with the wagon.

As I said at the beginning, this is a busy time, so goodbye.

They Cleanse While They Cure.—The vegetable compound of which Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are composed, mainly dandelion and mandrake, clear the stomach and intestines of deleterious matter and restore the deranged organs to healthful action. Hence they are the best remedy for indigestion available today. A trial of them will establish the truth of this assertion and do more to convince the ailing than anything that can be written of these pills.

Knew Him by His Order

An English actor was a member of a company snowbound in the Sierras, while en route from California to the East. Before their train was dug out by the snow plough they had been reduced to eating the coarse fare of the railroad laborers and got little enough even of that. So that they all had a magnificent hunger on when the train reached a small station at which there was a restaurant, and the Englishman was the first to find a seat at a table. "Bring me in a hurry," he said to the landlord a burly Western man, "a port-house steak, some deviled kidneys, a brace of chops, plenty of vegetables and two bottles of Bass' bitter beer." The landlord stuck his head out of the dining-room door and yelled to somebody in the rear apartment:—"Say, Bill, tell the band to play 'Rule Britannia,' the Prince of Wales has come."

Rub it in for Lame Back.—A brisk rubbing with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will have lame back. The pain will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the liniment sinks in the pain comes out and there are ample grounds for saying that it's touch is magical, as it is.

She Was Willing

The man was one of the sort that women like because of their awkwardness, their ugliness and their were too big for his legs, though his legs were enormous. His chest was too big for his head, though he wore a 7 1-8 size in hats.

He was like a St. Bernard pup, but older than any young dog.

He had never been at a regular dance before. The girls looked at delicate flowers to him, and he hardly dared to touch one of them. He looked to the girls like a new idea—and they hoped he'd arrive. He did, after a minute or two. He waddled across the floor, made a stand in front of the littlest girl, and said, more or less ungrammatically:

"Can I dance with you?"

She was rattled, but she answered with a smile:

"I don't know, but I like you well enough to let you try!"—Cleveland Plaindealer.

"Papa," says the little boy, "I'm hungry. Let's go get a sandwich."

"Papa, hasn't your train of thought got a dinner on it?"

WOMEN TAKE NOTICE!

A man cannot understand the torture and suffering many women endure uncomplainingly. If the majority of men suffered as much pain and endured with patience the weakening sicknesses that most women do, they would ask for immediate sympathy and look for a quick cure.

Many women have been saved from a life of misery and suffering by turning to the right remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy which is safe to take because containing no narcotics, alcohol or injurious ingredients. It is an alterative extract of roots, made with pure glycerin, and first given to the public by that famous specialist in the diseases of women—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. LIZZIE M. HENSHAW, of Lincoln, Neb., 539 "C" St., says: "I send a testimonial with much pleasure so that some suffering woman may know the true worth of your remedies. I was a great sufferer from female troubles but after taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which a friend advised me to take, I found myself very much improved. After taking three more bottles, and using two boxes of Dr. Pierce's Lozenges, I found myself on the road to recovery. I was in poor health for five years but now I am cured."

"I hope all women suffering from female weakness will give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription a fair trial."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

We notice a sign up, "Shall Westcott have a sports day." Sure thing. All come to the meeting at Westcott Saturday night. Westcott turned out well as usual at the Didsbury celebration May 24th and all report having had a good time.

Amos Wilson is going about with a shoulder badly hurt, the result of being dumped out of his wagon by un-awares driving into a rut washed out by the recent rains.

Charley Bedwell has quite recovered from the shock received in coming in contact with mother earth while turning a somersault from the top of his wagon when his team ran away.

John Weidner and Pierce Bellamy were among the prize winners at the Didsbury horse races.

Alex. Robertson went to Lacombe Tuesday of this week.

J. H. Braun and F. W. Bauer were visitors at Calgary for a few days lately.

Some people in this district have been deceived in their seed grain. After sowing seed at 50 cents per bushel they find it won't come up.

C. F. Moir had one of his heavy work horses so badly cut in the wire the other day that he will be out of commission for months.

Little Sadie Singer had her arm broken while playing at school the other day and it was in such shape that she had to be taken to the hospital at Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodson had friends from Calgary visiting them last week.

There never was a time when people appreciated the real merits of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy more than now. This is shown by the increase in sales and voluntary testimonials from persons who have been cured by it. If you or your children are troubled with a cough or cold give it a trial and become acquainted with its good qualities. For sale by all dealers.

On Sunday, June 9th, church anniversary services will be held. The morning service will commence at 11 o'clock. In the afternoon a children's service will be held, when recitations, dialogues and special singing will be given. An address will be given at each service by the pastor.

Lame back is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the back, for which you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by all dealers.

The Bye-Elections

The bye-elections for the provincial house of parliament resulted in a win for the Liberals in most cases. There is only one seat in doubt so far and that is Claresholm, where the candidates were even on Tuesday with two polls to hear from. The following is the result of the elections:

Cardston—Wolf (Lib.) elected.
Claresholm—[unclear] (Lib.) polls to hear from.
Edmonton—Cross (Lib.).
Sedgwick—Stewart (Lib.).
Sturgeon—Boyle (Lib.).

Didsbury Celebrates

The Empire Day celebration held on Friday last in Didsbury was a great success in every way. The weather was ideal, something that was rather surprising to everybody because at this time of year it is generally showery; and the attendance was a record breaker, according to gate receipts. There were visitors from Red Deer, Olds, Carstairs, Three Hills, Sunnyslope, Neapolis, Westcott and almost every other town surrounding Didsbury, and they were all a jolly good natured bunch, not a single instance of rowdiness or misconduct on the part of anyone marring the splendid day. Altogether the committees who had charge of the affair are to be congratulated on the smooth way in which the programme was conducted and also for the success of the preliminary work in getting the celebration going.

The programme did not start until 1 o'clock in the afternoon to allow visitors a chance to get to town for the beginning. The parade of school children, 150 strong headed by the Citizens band, was the first thing on the programme, and according to a great many spectators was the prettiest event of the day. The girls were dressed in white with red, white and blue sashes, while the boys carried small Union Jacks, which gave the parade a lively and animated appearance. The principal and teachers of the school are to be congratulated for the excellent appearance and marching of the children.

As soon as the parade reached the grounds the ring programme of horse races, athletic events, football match and climbing the greasy pole was started.

The entries for the horse races, excepting the green race, was well filled; and was the cause of a great deal of excitement amongst the lovers of this class of sport because there was a horse or two which had never been seen on the local track before. There were several horses to enter the green race but as a horse which it was claimed had a mark was entered the owners of the other horses decided to withdraw, which was unfortunate. The novelty horse race, walk half mile, trot half mile and go-as-you-please half mile, was perhaps the funniest of the whole programme. Mr. R. Hainstock of Olds acted as starter to the satisfaction of all concerned.

The league football match between Didsbury and Red Deer was a hard game, but the Didsbury team were defeated by a score of 4-0 according to the official score, although this should have been 4-2 by the score kept by some of the spectators. However, the game was a good one and the local team should not feel disheartened because of the loss of their first game as they had to play their first game with the hardest team in the league and who are all old country players and a much heavier team.

The athletic events were all well filled and although the local runners in the events did not show up very good the races were good.

Climbing the greasy pole was a great attraction but there were only three contestants who managed to climb the pole three or four feet. The prize was divided amongst the three men.

In the evening a baseball match was played between the Didsbury team and a team from Neapolis which resulted in a score of 8-1 in favor of Didsbury. The game was the cause of much fun both to the players as well as the spectators.

A dance was held in the Opera House after the ball game, at which there was a fair attendance.

It is expected that there will be a good surplus to hand over to the Citizens Band, but as all the winners' slips have not been handed in as yet, we are unable to publish the financial statement or give a list of the winners. It is hoped that these will be handed in at once to Mr. Cole at the Union Bank so that the business part of the celebration can be closed up immediately.

Your Best Shopping Guide

SUPPOSE there were no advertisements—what a worrying task shopping would be! Think how you would miss the helpful information that now guides you to select the best goods, and to know the shops where they can be best obtained.

How difficult to make up your shopping list without first knowing something about the goods you need, or the store that sells them! Your shopping would be all experiment. You would pay out a lot of money during the slow process of learning by experience how to avoid disappointment and dissatisfaction.

Thanks to the high standard of present-day advertising, no person needs to shop at random. The advertising columns of a newspaper give you just the information you require to make your best selection of goods or store. Leisurely, in the comfort of your own home, you can plan and decide upon the purchases in view.

For a moment he stared at her without moving. It is too good to be true.

"If this be a dream," he said softly, "please do not wake me."
"It is not a dream, Mr. Worth," she said in a voice, the natural sweetness of which was doubled by the affectionate intonation. "It is only I, who have come over in a most unceremonious way to ask you to give me a cup of tea."

He sat up and looked at her, almost dazed by surprise and delight at the change in her manner.

"I am afraid I was rather disagreeable to-day," she said. "I was feeling anxious, and I have a good deal to try me. But I have brought you one of my best roses to make my excuse."

He got up then to his feet, sure at last that he was awake, and that the world was turning into paradise.

"Lady Anne," he said in the most natural way, as he held the white bud in his hand, "if you were to throw stones at me instead of giving me this lovely flower I don't think you could alter my opinion of you."

She smiled kindly.

"Is it so bad as that?" she asked. She was so tall that her head was almost on a level with his own. He looked direct into her eyes as he replied in a low, reverent tone—

"Yes, it is as bad as that!"

She blushed but she laughed quite gaily.

"You will think still worse of me when you know how greedy I am," she said. "I have been dreadfully discouraged to-day, and so have gotten to eat. But Mrs. Anning's tea-cakes are delicious. And have you ever tasted her brown bread and butter?"

"I have never had tea here."

"Then I will inaugurate your first tea at the Manor Farm! Ah, here is Mrs. Anning and she has brought my Italian jug with flowers in it. Isn't it a lovely shape?"

"Mr. Worth always asks for that jug at his meals, my lady."

Evidently the farmer's wife was puzzled by Lady Anne's unwonted gentleness towards a stranger, for she glanced nervously from one to the other. John is out; but she had a shrewd suspicion that John would disapprove; and, quiet as his manner was, Farmer Anning was emphatically master in his own house.

"I wish you would take off your hat," Harry said to Lady Anne, as the farmer's wife passed out of the room. "Then I can remember you afterwards here with your hat off. And it isn't a stiff tea party, is it, that you need keep it on?"

"Of course I will take off my hat," Lady Anne said, drawing the hatpins from it and handing it to him. "Is that better?"

She pushed the soft, naturally curling tendrils of yellow hair away from her brow and eyes, while Harry laid the hat down as though it were something holy.

He sat down opposite to her and drew a long breath.

"Yes, that is better," he said. "Best of all, in fact."

A tea-urn had been placed on the table, and he had the supreme satisfaction of watching her make the tea over a spirit lamp. He was too happy to speak, too much entranced by the joy of looking at her and of listening to her voice, softened now until its low notes sounded almost like a caress.

Her manner towards him had altered so completely that she no longer seemed the same woman. Her eyes, instead of avoiding his face, rested upon it constantly, and when she met his gaze she half smiled, as though her thoughts about him were pleasant ones.

In spite of her queenly aspect, it was easy to see that she was a woman of domestic tastes. The movements of her slim, white hands over the tea-making were deft and dainty, and to Harry, accustomed as he was to his mother's prodigious display of jewelry, it seemed strange that they were bare of rings. Her gown was of the simplest, but he was sufficiently well-versed in such things to know that in material and in make the semi-loose white silk blouse and the white cloth skirt were worthy of her.

She talked to him about the water plants at Lyllyngton, the flowering ferns at Loders, and the amber butterflies of Dorset. He drew her on to speak about her roses and soon she was flushing with excitement as she told him of some rare additions she had lately made to her garden. Her kindness almost turned his head.

"We must see more of each other, Mr. Worth," she said at last as she rose to go, "for we are friends."

He bent to kiss the hand she held out to him.

"I am your friend and servant always," he murmured. "You must know that, Lady Anne."

A discordant laugh rang through the room. The buttery hatch window had been drawn aside, and the malevolent face of Sammy the idiot peered out at them.

"He, he!" he chuckled hoarsely. "Best stop your courting. She's a married to a dead man, an' he mid come fra the grave an' drash ye!"

The Grand Trunk Pacific announces that a through passenger service between Regina and Winnipeg will be put on by that company next month. It is also stated that particulars with regard to the new Regina station will be made public in the near future. A sub-station on the north side of the city will soon be a necessity but no decision as to location has been reached as yet.

The Tired Business Man

Now, let us consider this bugaboo of the Tired Business Man. The theatrical managers yelp about him continually.

"Why do you produce nothing but musical comedy?" we ask.

"Oh, you must cater to the tired business man."

"Why must the libretto be in words of one syllable?"

"You see, we cater to the tired business man."

"No doubt that accounts for these feeble plots."

"Yes, we cater to the tired business man."

But does the tired business man get all this consideration when he goes to the ball park? No, he sits on the hard benches and roots like the rest of us. The Tired Business Man is a myth.

The Grasping Salt

"Capt. Salt once behaved with considerable heroism in a collision at sea, and his company wished to present him with a gold watch. Accordingly Salt was invited to a board meeting, and there, in a luxurious room on the thirteenth story of a skyscraper, amid a throng of millionaires with white side whiskers, a superb gold watch was duly presented to the mariner in a neat speech.

"And how did Capt. Salt receive that beautiful watch? He took it in his big red hand, frowned, and said:

"Where's the chain that goes with it?"

Artificial Sponge

The manufacture of artificial sponge is based on the action of zinc chloride on pure cellulose, which has been mixed with pure rock salt. This mass is subjected to pressure by a press, provided with pins which serve to pierce through the mass, thus making tiny canals, looking very much like the pores of the natural sponge. It is mashed very thoroughly in a weak solution of alcohol to remove the excess of salts. This sponge swells up with water and hardens on drying just like the genuine article. It is especially adapted for filtering drinking water, but it can be used for all purposes to which the natural product is applied.

GOOD AS A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE

Baby's Own Tablets are as good as a doctor in the house. They never fail to relieve the little one from stomach and bowel troubles, to expel worms, make teething easy and promote healthful sleep. Concerning them, Mrs. J. H. Turner, Glenora, Ont., says: "I always recommend Baby's Own Tablets to my friends. I have used them for a long time, and find them without an equal. They relieved baby of the feverishness and have made her one of the most healthy babies there is. I always keep them in the house and consider them as good as a doctor." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Getting It All

The doctor told him he needed carbohydrates, proteins and above all, something nitrogenous. The doctor mentioned a long list of foods for him to eat. He staggered out and wobbled into a Pent Avenue restaurant.

"How about beefsteak?" he asked the waiter. "Is that nitrogenous?"

The waiter didn't know.

"Are fried potatoes rich in carbohydrate, drates or not?"

The waiter couldn't say.

"Well, I'll fix it," declared the poor man in despair. "Bring me a large plate of hash."—Pittsburg Post.

His Handicap

"The greatest handicapper I ever knew," says the man with the ass on his vest, "was a little, slim, bald-headed, smooth-faced fellow named John Smith. As a band leader he made all these famous ones look like hopeless amateurs."

"I never heard of him," argues the man with the reversible tie.

"Of course you didn't. Nor did anybody else. Didn't I just say that he was a little, slim, bald-headed, smooth-faced fellow and that his name was John Smith?"

Sleeping Sickness

A French doctor, M. A. Lafont, who has been studying the insects which are supposed to carry sleeping sickness, reports to the Biological Society of Paris that, whilst working in the British dependencies in the Indian British Mauritius and Reunion, his attention was called to the reduviidae bugs, especially a large bug which attacks man, and is called by the natives "Mauvin" or "Morpin." The first of these was caught in a native bed, where it had just bitten a child. Afterwards the natives found him several specimens, and in the intestinal canals of almost all he found trypanosomes, the organisms that cause sleeping sickness. The Sleeping Sickness Bulletin for April states that this observation should be of special interest for India, especially Madras, for Dr. Donovan has there found an exactly similar form of organism in the same bug, which he has proved to feed on human blood.

GENERAL INQUIRY INTO WESTERN FREIGHT RATES THIS MONTH

Next Session of Railway Board to be Held on June 18th
When a General Investigation of Freight Rates in the West Will Take Place.

Ottawa.—The next session of the railway board to be held on June 18, will be a big day for the west. On that day the general inquiry into freight rates west of Port Arthur will be proceeded with as will the re-hearing of the Regina rates case.

In both instances prima facie cases have been established against the railways and it will be up to them to indicate what line they are going to take by way of defence.

Both cases involve the serious charge of discrimination. In the general freight tariff inquiry the allegation is that there is discrimination against Western Canada and in favor of the east. In the Regina case the allegation is that the railways still discriminate against Regina jobbers in the matter of rates on ten classes of goods carried.

The postponement of the general inquiry by the railway board when it met on Monday was due to the illness of E. Beatty, the chief counsel of the C.P.R., who is in an hospital and may have to go south, and to the fact that other counsel for the railways stated that they had not yet had an opportunity to fully acquaint themselves with the intricate question of rates involved.

The Regina case was proceeded with at some length by M. K. Cowan, K. C., counsel for the Regina Board of Trade, who submitted figures to show that the order of the board issued some months ago had not been fully complied with by the railways, and that serious discrimination still exists. He examined one witness, Mr. Smith, of the Regina Board of Trade, who maintained that Winnipeg still had the big end of the rate situation because the order of the board had not been complied with by the railways. The net result of the proceedings in connection with the Regina complaint was that the railways did not commit themselves as to whether they claim to have removed the discrimination or not.

Mr. Philomen, however, noted figures to show that they had reduced the rates considerably and that the rate per ton mile generally was lower than before.

Assistant Chairman Scott said that the board would certainly go west. It was the desire of various western boards of trade that there should be sittings in the west, and the board would be governed in arranging its sessions by the advice of the committee for the Dominion government. Western sittings would not be necessary, however, for the present, and the next move would be on the part of the railways, who had been asked to justify the existing rates in the west. He remarked that the board does not observe the legal holidays, but will work practically all the summer months.

Mr. Scott then suggested that the hearing go over until June 18. He expressed the hope that on that date the railways would be preparing to indicate the line they will follow in regard to their defence.

The renewed application of the Regina Board of Trade was then taken up. E. H. Chrysler, counsel for the Canadian Pacific railway, said that practically no notice had been given and counsel for the railways would need to be instructed. Then it was desirable that the railways should know just what this new complaint means.

ANGLO-GERMAN RELATIONSHIP

Sixteen Prominent British Statesmen Contribute Articles to Magazine.

Berlin.—Sixteen leading British statesmen and scientists, including Viscount Haldane, British secretary for war; A. J. Balfour, former British premier; Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition in the house of commons; Lord Courtney, Baron Weardale and Sir Wm Ramsay, contribute articles to the current issue of the German magazine, Norddeutscher, and an equal number of prominent Germans will write to the same magazine in its next issue in an effort to improve Anglo-German relations.

The most significant article is that by Mr. Balfour, who declared British suspicion is natural in view of the existence of Germany's military force and advocacy by Germany of a policy which is incompatible with the world's peace and the rights of nations. The former premier asks Germany to disavow those zealots who are preaching an extension of Germany's boundaries in Europe, and the acquisition of colonies at the expense of other nations, and requests her to show the world that armies are more useful in peace than war, and that the appetite for territorial expansion is a worn-out phase of patriotism.

THE I.W.W. STRIKE

Victoria, B.C.—A telegram was received by the attorney general from J. N. Fook, Vancouver organizer of the I.W.W., saying: "Will declare strike on Canadian Pacific off on conditions."

To this Hon. W. J. Bowser replied that the attorney-general has nothing to do with settling strikes one way or the other and that the dispute between the I.W.W. and the contractors is not his business, his duty being simply to see that the peace and good government of the country are upheld.

There is not a single idle member of the I.W.W. along the grade of the Canadian Northern between Yale and Kamloops, according to advices received at the executive offices of the company at this city.

CHIPMAN'S BODY FOUND

Young Surveyor Met Death in the Athabasca River

Edmonton.—The body of Lawrence Chipman, the engineer in charge of a locating party in the Edmonton-Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway, who was drowned in the Athabasca river, April 7, has been found by members of the searching party sent out to hunt for the young man, who started across the Athabasca river and was last seen near Mirror Landing. When found the body of the young man was so badly decomposed that it was immediately buried near the spot where it was found.

Lawrence Chipman was the brother of Warwick Chipman, a lawyer of Montreal, and a nephew of H. W. Sweeney, of Winnipeg.

Trying to End War.

Paris.—M. Isvolsky, Russian ambassador to France, presiding at the annual meeting of the Russian chamber of commerce, Paris, said that efforts of France and Russia, acting in close collaboration with England, to put an end to the Turkish-Italian war or in any case to prevent hostilities from disturbing the peace at other points, were being continued in complete accord with other powers. He expressed firm hope that the efforts would shortly be crowned with success.

THE MARKET REPORT

Weekly Grain Letter Supplied by Thompson, Sons & Co., Grain Merchants, Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, May 15.—Within the last three or four days the action of the wheat markets in many important centres of the grain trade both in America and Europe has been dictated by a less confident feeling on the part of many traders. In the ability of the situation to further advance prices at the present time, or perhaps even to hold them up to recent levels. The moderate and partial weakening of bullish sentiment is neither surprising nor unreasonable when a broad view of the facts is taken, but neither does it decide that there has been such a change in the general breadstuffs situation and prospects, as would determine that a higher level of prices is unwarrantable. In accounting for such change of sentiment as there seems to be, we would point out that after nearly six weeks of daily reiterated damage reports about the winter wheat crop in the United States, finishing up with the government May report, issued on the 7th inst., there has been almost a cessation of such reports, and instead, owing to the advance of the season and a few days of somewhat more favorable growing weather, reports have begun to come of improvement to fields which a few weeks ago looked as if in very bad shape. It is in the nature of things that a sufficiency of moisture and a higher temperature would cause injured fields to appear in a flourishing condition, and would give poor fields a much improved appearance, but the very best of crop weather cannot make a partially damaged field into a bumper crop, and far less can it raise any wheat crop on the six and a half million acres abandoned, being plowed up, or having other crops, such as oats, disked in without being freshly plowed. Another thing that is no doubt prompting to easiness in market sentiment is the comparatively large quantity of wheat in sight in face of the somewhat common idea which has prevailed that the end of the season would see the world's supply down to very small dimensions. It is well known that, owing to crop failure in Russia last year, Europe has been dependent on other countries for wheat to a much greater extent than usual. In spite of that the shipments from exporting to importing countries from July 1, 1911, to May 11, 1912, have been 101,222,000 bus. less than for the same period in the previous year, and yet the quantity of ocean passage today is 56,512,000 bus. against 54,690,000 bus. a year ago. The United States visible supply is 38,180,000 bus. against 25,402,000 bus. last year, and the Canadian visible supply is 18,480,000 bus. against 8,370,000 bus. a year ago. This week the European visible supply comes to 97,532,000 bus. against 93,800,000 bus. a year ago. In this European visible is included the quantity of wheat on ocean passage, but it is now 3,732,000 bus. larger than a year ago, whereas only two months ago the total European visible supply was 35,318,000 bus. less than it was at the same date last year. The consideration of these large visible supplies must have a deterring influence on the regular merchant trade over the world, and yet it may turn out that the real tug of war between supply and demand is still to come within the next three months. While visible supplies are such as we have stated, it is generally believed that the usual invisible supplies are on a small scale and there seems little doubt of this, because last year's winter wheat harvests in America and Europe were very early, and farmers sold liberally from the first. In America millers and flour merchants have been handling their trade from hand to mouth, always looking for lower prices ahead, and such evidence as the trade calls for constant supply for current requirements. In Europe the milling and flour trade is in the same case, ordinary current demand and no reserve supplies to fall back on except the public visible supplies. The flour trade has mostly all along been called slow and dull, but bread from wheat is about the cheapest food going anywhere, and the world is using up about 10,000,000 bus. of wheat daily. Thus in face of larger visible supplies than perhaps anyone thought likely some months ago, there is likely to come a time before new crops are ready, when there will be a tightness between supply and demand that will advance prices more or less above the present level, and should any further serious unfavorableness come over any large portion of the present year's wheat crops, it would be a signal for large advance. While the winter wheat crop in the United States is cut down in acreage some 6,500,000 acres from the acreage planted, there is also going to be a decrease in the acreage of the three principal spring wheat states of probably 1,500,000 acres, compared with the acreage in 1911. This is caused by the lack of plowing last fall, the tendency to diversify crops, by planting a larger acreage to other grains than wheat, and to the lateness and wetness of the present spring in North Dakota. In Western Canada conditions for seeding have not been favorable, especially in Manitoba. It is supposed that, owing to the amount of new land broken up in Saskatchewan and Alberta, that the drawbacks of lack of fall plowing and abnormal amount of wet weather this spring, causing delay and lost time in working, would be overcome and allow of considerable increase, but at the present it is all guess work. Two things are certain, viz: That not nearly so much ground is sown to wheat as would have been with a favorable seed time, and a great deal of wheat that has been sown has been done in a slipshod manner, and a lot of poor seed used, future prospects depend on the weather. In Europe crops are generally in fair shape, although lately complaints are made of too dry weather in the United Kingdom and Western Europe, and too wet and cold in parts of Russia.

Our Winnipeg market has been less strong and active since lake navigation opened, as if exporters were too busy attending to shipping old contracts to engage in making new ones. An immense quantity of wheat has been let loose from Fort William and Duluth, in the twelve days since navigation opened, probably about 16,000,000 bus. and stocks at terminals will soon be down to moderate compass. Today's cash prices are: 1 Nor. 104c; 2 Nor. 101c; 3 Nor. 96½c; No. 4 wheat, 87½c; No. 5, 75½c; No. 6, 65c; Feed, 60c; No. 2 Alberta Red Winter, 95½c; No. 3 A.R. 94½c; No. 4 A.R. 88c. Futures closed May 104½c July, 103½c; October, 98c.

Oats.—The oat market has been easier for 2 Canadian Western and for future deliveries, but the feed grades have kept very strong, with keen demand for them. Today's cash prices are: No. 2 C.W., 48c; 3 C.W., 42½c; Ex 1 Feed, 44½c; 1 Feed, 43½c; 2 Feed 42½c. Futures closed May 48½c; July 48½c.

Barley.—There has been little or no demand for barley lately and prices are: No. 3, 69c; No. 4, 66c; rejected 66c; feed, 66c.

Flax.—The flax market is firm and buyers are more numerous. Today's cash prices are: No. 1 N.W., 199c; No. 2, 194c; rejected, 181c. Futures closed May 196½c. Note: That cash seed is higher than the future deliveries.

All prices quoted above are based on delivery in store Fort William and Port Arthur.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON IX—SECOND QUARTER
FOR JUNE 2, 1912

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES

Text of the Lesson, Matt. vi. 1-13.
Memory Verses, 7-8—Golden Text.
Matt. vi. R. V.—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

We have our choice today of the regular lesson in order or a special lesson on the Holy Spirit from Acts II, 1-11; but inasmuch as only by the Spirit can the teaching of the regular lesson on almsgiving, prayer and fasting be put in practice, we will take the regular portion with a look at the whole chapter, as we do not seem to have the rest of the chapter in any subsequent lesson. The heart of the whole Bible seems to be "the kingdom of God and His righteousness," (verse 33). The Lord Jesus came to set up this kingdom on the earth, but as they rejected it and Him it will not be set up till He shall come again in glory. Meanwhile all who become children of God by receiving Jesus Christ and joint heirs with Him should walk worthy of His kingdom and glory while they wait for it. (1 Thesa. II, 12). Their motto should ever and always be, "First the kingdom of God." Then there would be no anxious thought about aught else, for He gives the assurance that all will be provided by our Father, who knoweth all our need (verse 31-32). Whether it be the service or prayer or fasting of the daily life, there is one principle to govern all. It must be unto the Father, who seeth in secret, who looketh upon the heart and to whom all things are naked but God who trieth our hearts. (1 Thesa. II, 4). Is a principal always to be observed in contrast to that the most religious people of our Lord's time did everything to be seen of men (Matt. xxiii, 5). It was even so in the days of the prophets, and a special feature of the last days of this age will be a turning away from the truth and a form of godliness without any power (Isa. xxix, 13; Ezek. xxxiii, 31; II Tim. iii, 15; iv, 3-4). In each of the three paragraphs of our lesson there is a contrast between a present reward of approval of men and a future reward from God Himself, spoken of in verse 20, as "treasure in Heaven." We cannot serve God and Mammon or God and the devil, for the friendship of this world is enmity with God, and that which is highly esteemed among men is a condemnation in the sight of God (verse 24; Luke xvi, 15; Jas. iv, 4). There was only one who always and in all things pleased the Father, but He desires to live His life in us and will if we yield fully to Him (John viii, 29; I Cor. iv, 10-11). He was manifested approved of God by the miracles and wonders and signs which God did by Him (Acts II, 22). Our instructions are to study, to show ourselves approved unto God, workmen that need not be ashamed. (II Tim II, 15). This can be done only as we are spirit-filled like the disciples on the day of Pentecost, and like them we must be willing to be misunderstood and even counted drunken or beside ourselves for His sake. The old word to Abraham is always helpful, "Walk before Me and be thou sincere" (Gen. xviii, 1, margin), and also the oft repeated words in Leviticus "unto the Lord," and before the Lord." Concerning giving to any good work, the motive of the donor is everything. If the gift is wholly and only "unto the Lord," desiring only His approval, then it does not matter if people do know of it. It should be the love of Christ constraining, and according to II Sam. xxiv, 24, I will not offer unto the Lord of that which doth cost me nothing, and also according to I Chron. xxix, 14, "All things come of thee, and thine own do we give thee." Concerning prayer, it is real access to God by Jesus Christ, remembering I John, v. 15, 15, "This is the confidence that we have in Him, that if we ask anything according to His will He heareth us, and if we know that He hear us, and if we know that we have the petitions we desired of Him." As to this form of prayer which He gave at this time and which we spoke of in a former lesson on the beatitudes, the late Dr. Saphir said of it: "It is a model prayer and as such commends itself to the most superficial glance—approves itself at once to the conscience of man. The prayer is short, that it may be quickly learned, easily remembered and frequently used, but it contains all things pertaining to life and godliness. In its simplicity it seems adapted purposely for the weakness of the inexperienced and ignorant, and yet none can say that he is familiar with the heights and the treasures of wisdom it contains. In verses 14, 15 of our lesson note that communion with God as our Father depends upon our forgiving others as He forgave us. This, like all the discourse is not a condition of salvation, but another word for His disciples. As to fasting, the best comment I know is Isa. lviii, 3-11, remembering that, like giving and praying, it must be from the heart unto the Lord. The forty day fasts of Moses and Elijah and the Lord Jesus were peculiar and unique, but the record of fasting in the Acts of the Apostles is for our example, and our Lord spoke of the power of prayer and fasting in Matt. xvii, 21. Consider also Es. lviii, 21; Neh. I, 4; Est. iv 16, Dan. x, 2, 3.

CONNECT EMPIRE BY WIRELESS

British Government Will Arrange for Wireless Girdle Around the Empire

London.—Postmaster-General Samuels in submitting the post office budget in the House of Commons, said the questions of compulsory wireless installation on ships and the conditions that should be imposed for continuous services were matters that were engaging the close attention of the president of the board of trade and himself. Probably they would be considered at the international conference on wireless telegraphy in London next month.

Provisional arrangements, added Mr. Samuels, had been made with the Marconi Company for the erection through the British empire of wireless stations able to communicate with each other at a distance of 2,000 miles or more. Six stations would be erected at first. One would be in England. Probably the next two would be located respectively in Egypt and British East Africa. There would be another in India.

SOME OF THEM GET NO GRANT

Two Thousand Fenian Veterans Receive $100.—15,000 Apply

Ottawa, Ont.—Two thousand veterans who took part in the defence of Canada against the Fenians in 1866 and 1870 will shortly be in possession of the $100 grant voted last session on the recommendation of the Hon. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia.

The applications have been approved and transferred to the department of Fenians and will shortly be distributed. There are still 15,000 applications to be considered by the militia department, while eight thousand others have asked for application forms.

It is expected that several thousand people who think they are entitled to the grant will be disappointed.

Crisis in Spain

Madrid.—Persistent reports are current of an approaching ministerial crisis in Spain, due to alleged dissensions between Premier Jose Canalejas and other members of the cabinet. These dissensions are attributed to intrigues by the Conservatives, headed by ex-Premier Maura, who seeks to return to power.

Reports have caused meetings of the Republicans and Socialists to be called at Barcelona, where Alejandro Lerroux, Radical leader, declared that the return of ex-Premier Maura would be the signal for an uprising of Radical masses of Barcelona.

British Columbia Claims

Ottawa.—Premier McBride of British Columbia, who has been on an extended visit to Great Britain will stop off in Ottawa on his way home for several days. While in the capital he will discuss matters of interest to British Columbia, more particularly the question of better financial terms, which the coast province has for years back demanded.

British Columbia's case is now being prepared and it will be laid before Premier Borden and his colleagues by Mr. McBride. A possible result of the conference may be the appointment of a royal commission to inquire into and report on British Columbia's claims.

BRINGING SCOTLAND WORRY

Smart Double-Horsed Canadian Farm Wagon Gets the Eye of the Canny Northerner

London.—Some uneasiness is being caused in government and other circles here by the dimensions which the light Canadian farm wagon is assuming in rural Scotland.

This spring 4,357 of Scotland's best type of agricultural workers sailed for Canada during March.

Thousands more are preparing to go under the persuasive eloquence of Hugh Mackenzie and the Canadian government agents are now touring the lowlands and highlands, with a smart double-horsed Canadian farm wagon, laden with Canadian farm samples and alluring literature.

Mackinnon Woodsey, for Scotland, is being pressed to do something to check this diversion of Scotland's finest human material by the creation of small holdings on state credit, as in Ireland and other progressive land legislation.

Sent North Again

Toronto.—Prof. Sydney C. Ellis, of Ottawa, whose exploring expedition through the James Bay district has summer upset the popular misconceptions that the bay was absolutely without natural harbors for seagoing vessels, will be sent north by the Temiskaming and Northern Railway Commission this year to make an exhaustive report on harbor facilities, possible channels and the tides at the mouth of the Moose River.

Upon his report will depend the decision of the government and the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Commission whether the terminus for the line will be on James Bay or further north at Port Nelson.

Railway Commission Busy

Ottawa.—For some time now the railway commissioners will be working hard, as their itinerary calls for two or three sittings a week. In Hamilton, on May 29, the commission will take up the question of removing the telegraph and telephone wires and poles from the streets of that city. Sittings in Peterboro, May 30, will follow. The board will then sit in Ottawa, June 4; Windsor, N.S., June 6; Montreal, June 11; North Bay, June 14; and in Ottawa again June 18.

Mounted Police Unable to get Men

Ottawa.—Great difficulty is being experienced by the North-West Mounted Police department in securing new recruits for the force. Inspector Gordon, who is at present in the maritime provinces, advises that he finds it practically impossible to secure recruits of the standard of efficiency and intelligence required by the department. The reason given is that the remuneration is not sufficiently great in view of increasing opportunity in other fields.

Germany Forces Trouble in Balkans

Berlin.—Germany is becoming concerned over the increasing seriousness of the situation in the Balkans. It is stated semi-officially that while the government is hopeful that the powers may not be drawn into a snarl, it recognizes the fact that there are dangerous possibilities that might make the situation critical within 24 hours. It is hoped, however, that this is only the usual spring eruption.

The Slaughter Houses

Didsbury, Alta., May 28, 1912.

Dear Editor:

Please allow me a little space to express a few thoughts regarding the position of the slaughter houses east of town.

It seems to me, in such a large and roomy country as we have here, that it would hardly be necessary to have two slaughter houses placed right on the road over which a large percentage of the surrounding population must pass in order to get to town.

In my opinion these houses should at least be one-fourth of a mile from the road. When the wind is from a favorable quarter the stench from these places can be discerned for fully one-fourth of a mile. I do not think it fair (and others hold my opinion) that those wishing to get to town or to go out for a drive should be forced to endure such a sickening odor as arises from these houses. Why could these houses not be placed back a suitable distance from the road? It would probably inconvenience the butchers to a certain extent; but do they ever stop to consider the inconvenience to which passers by are put by coming in contact with the foul smell arising therefrom?

Hoping that some action will be taken in this matter and thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the valuable space allowed me, I am,

One for a Clean Vicinity.

Civilization En Route

From steel rails to Florida water is the literal scope of the traveling industrial exhibition which put out from Montreal Thursday night last week for a grand tour over the west. Technically this train is known as the Made-in-Canada train; and as it stood in the Windsor street station ready to pull out, it had somewhat the same interest to the visitor as unloading a circus used to have to the farmer's boy. The train was freely exposed to the public, and those who took the trouble to saunter down the long aisles of this compact and compendious collection of things made in Canada, from the locomotive at the head to the bottle of Florida water and the Pianos and the kodaks and the cash registers, and a hundred other sorts and conditions of things used in civilization, were much impressed with the novelty and the variety of the show.

It was almost the Canadian national exhibition in miniature. One coach was fitted up as a home; kitchen to parlor, everything complete. In another a huge touring car excited the curiosity of those who wondered how on earth it was got into the coach, or whether the coach had been built around it—till some bright mind discovered that the motor car had been assembled right inside the train from its various parts, all but the engine, perhaps, made in Canada.

During the day Mayor Lavalie, Mr.

George E. Drummond and Mr. N. Curry gave an official send-off to the exhibit. Mr. Drummond, a past president of the C. M. A., observed that there are in Canada 20,000 factories employing 500,000 hands to turn out every year a billion dollars' worth of just such goods as were represented in that cosmos starting over the C. P. R. Mayor Lavalie shrewdly noted that Montreal alone had fifteen separate exhibits aboard; that the city of Montreal has an industrial population of 75,000, turning out every year $180,000,000 worth of goods on a capital investment of but ten millions less than the annual output.

Mr. N. Curry, president of the Home Market Association, and general custos of the train, said: "The Home Market Association believes that purchasing 'Made-in-Canada' goods will greatly benefit Canada as a whole, and in the long run every class and every industry in the country."

The other day, while shopping, a lady accidentally picked up another lady's umbrella from the counter, and had the mistake pointed out to her in a rather frigid manner. She returned the umbrella with apologies, and then remembered that she had no umbrella with her.

As it had begun to rain, she bought one, as well as one for a birthday present for a friend. With the two umbrellas in her hand, she boarded a car and, as luck would have it, sat down opposite the lady whose umbrella she had picked up earlier in the store. As the latter swept out of the car she smiled again frigidly, and remarked to the lady of the umbrellas, "I see you have had had a successful day."

It would surprise you to know of the great good that is being done by Chamberlain's Tablets. Darius Downey, of Newberg Junction, N. B., writes, "My wife has been using Chamberlain's Tablets and finds them very effectual and doing her lots of good." If you have any trouble with your stomach or bowels give them a trial. For sale by all dealers.

An old negro living in Carrollton was taken ill recently, and called in a physician of his race to prescribe for him. But the old man did not seem to be getting any better, and finally a white physician was called. Soon after arriving Dr. S— felt the darkey's pulse for a moment, and then examined his tongue. "Did your other doctor take your temperature?" he asked. "I don't know, sah," he answered, feebly; "I haint missed nuthin' but mah watch yit, boss."

MOTHERS!

Preserve Your Children's Hair

Every mother should see that her children's hair is dressed with Parisian Sage, the wonderful hair restorer and germicide. A little neglect on your part now may mean much loss of beauty when your girl is grown up.

Prevention Better than Cure

Parisian Sage is a rigidly guaranteed hair restorer and cures all scalp diseases, prevents hair from falling out and creates a rich luxuriant growth of hair, a glory to woman and the pride of man.

A pleasant hair dressing—ladies like it, and your druggist, H. W. Chambers, guarantees every bottle that he sells at 50c and stands ready to refund your money if it fails to do its work. By mail postpaid from Giroux Manufacturing Co., Fort Erie, Ont. See that the girl with the auburn hair is on each package. Sold and guaranteed by H. W. Chambers.

Poor appetite is a sure sign of impaired digestion. A few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will strengthen your digestion and improve your appetite. Thousands have been benefited by taking these tablets. Sold by all dealers.

The Epidemic—"In the spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love." And the other day we heard the office boy plaintively whistling the tune of: "Darling I am growing older; silver threads among the gold."

Severely Logical

It was a Welsh minister who described the devil to a little congregation in a remote Welsh valley. Said the minister:

"The devil is bound round the middle with chains, and round the arms with chains and round the legs with chains. But John Jones, pointing to a man in the front row, 'he can reach you; and you, David Evans,' pointing to one in the middle row, 'he can reach you, and,' pointing to one at the back, 'John Williams, he can reach you.'"

And then a man in the gallery called out: "Why he might as well be loose."—London Globe.

NERVES AT HIGH TENSION

Necessary in This Age of Keen Competition and Great Accomplishment

When the Body Fails to Support the Brain Seek the Help of

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Nervous people are the salt of the earth. The great men and great women are usually those of nervous temperament.

But it takes an enormous quantity of great brain of a highly tensioned nervous system.

Digestion fails because nerve force is lacking to control the flow of digestive fluids. A little extra excitement is followed by the agony of a sleepless night. You are easily irritated and lose patience, you lack the reserve force which is necessary for success and to ward off disease. Unfortunately nervous diseases do not right themselves and since your digestive system fails to supply sufficient nourishment you must seek external assistance such as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This great food cure is not a narcotic to deaden the nerves. It is not a stimulant to whip up the nerves to renewed effort.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food feeds the feeble wasted nerves back to health and vigor. It floods the nervous system with new rich blood, the only substance from which nerve force can be made. Fifty cents a box, 6 for $2.50 at all dealers, or Edman-son, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Written Excuses

The teacher of a kindergarten class was strict in the matter of compelling her charges to bring written excuses from home in case they had missed attendance at school.

After a big storm, which kept many of the youngsters away, all but one brought perfunctory explanations from their mothers. The one child was told to have a letter with him the next day. He did and it read: "Dear Madam; Willie's legs are 16 inches long and the snow was two feet deep.

Yours, etc."

OIL IS KING
OIL IS MONEY

The oil business when properly managed, is the most profitable also the safest business in the world. The returns from it are much larger and quicker than those afforded by any other line of business.

The farmer produces from one to two crops per year, and his profits are at the mercy of the seasons. Producing oil wells give ONE crop each and EVERY DAY, and few are the catastrophes that can harm a producing oil property or impair its value.

The merchant and manufacturer must continually rush his sales in order to prevent ruinous depreciation in the value of his goods, on account of seasons and fashion. Not so with oil stored safe in the ground. It can wait the passing of a panic. TIME tends always to increase its value as the demand for oil and oil products is constantly growing.

The best that can be hoped for from most lines of business is a profit of from three to ten per cent. per year, while the oil producing business EARNs and PAYS this or a greater per cent.

EACH AND EVERY MONTH The McAnders Oil Company, now organized will develop and operate for oil upon its lands located just 24 miles from Los Angeles. The McAnders Oil Co. are fortunate in securing 40 acres of the best producing oil territory in California.—The Fullerton Oil fields. The McAnders Oil Company is capitalized at $750,000. Fully paid and non-accessible.

Not to be Caught

Johnson is a mean man. A favorite dodge if his is to try and get free advice from his doctor, but the man of medicine is becoming too sharp for him.

The other day Johnson rushed at his doctor on the street.

"Good afternoon, doctor!" he began gushingly. "By the way, I know, a man who is suffering agonies from neuralgia. At times it is so bad he simply howls with the pain. What would you do in that case?"

"Well, I don't know," was the doctor's prompt reply; "I suppose I should howl with pain, too."

"You must always be nice to your little playmates."

"I know. I've got my lessons all right. I'm just beating them around a bit trying to teach them that they've got to be nice to me, too."

FORESTS AND WATER

Benefits of Manitoba Forest Reserves To Surrounding Country

The water supply of a district is always considerably influenced by the forests at or near the headwaters of its streams. This is one of the reasons why large districts have been set aside by the Government of the Dominion of Canada and many other governments, to be kept permanently as forests.

The soil within the forest, largely composed as it is of decaying and decayed leaves, twigs, and other vegetable matter, acts much like a sponge in soaking up the moisture that falls. On the other hand, the absence of high winds within the forest does much to prevent or lessen evaporation.

The Riding Mountain and Turtle Mountain, forest reserves in Manitoba are good examples of this fact. In the Riding Mountain reserve are the headwaters of the Minnedosa (Little Saskatchewan or Rapid) river, one of the important tributaries of the Assiniboine from which, by the way, the town of Minnedosa is now deriving power. On the other side of the reserve issue many rivers, among and Oche rivers and Edwards creek. The last named is a source of water-supply for the town of Dauphin.

In the Turtle Mountain forest reserve are to be found the sources of the Pembina and Whitemud rivers, as well as of many smaller streams, some of which lose themselves in the prairie.

Cutting away the forest from the headwaters of the streams would mean that in spring the melted snows would rush down these water-courses in a torrent and be wasted, not to speak of doing considerable damage in its course, while in summer the stream beds would be almost dried up.

Thus not only would the streams be deprived of any possible value in producing power, but their value to the soils of the farming districts in keeping up a steady supply of moisture would be much lessened, if not altogether destroyed.

Philosophy by Post

There was once a man who had a great scheme of philosophy to propound. He became so engrossed in his idea that he allowed his hair to flourish unrestrained, wore out-of-date clothing and generally went around in a slipshod manner.

"Humph!" said those who heard this. "He is only posing. He doesn't mean what he says."

So he had his hair cut and acquired clothing of the latest style and pattern. Having remodelled himself thus, once more he started forth to spread his new doctrine.

"Humph!" said the same people. "He is only bluffing. He doesn't know what he is talking about."

Regarded as one of the most potent compounds ever introduced with which to combat all summer complaints and inflammation of the bowels, Dr. D. J. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial has won for itself a reputation that no other cordial for the purpose can aspire to. For young or old suffering from these complaints it is the best medicine that can be procured.

The railway lines of the Grand Trunk Pacific in western Canada are being increased about 10 miles in length each day at the present time and, with the arrival in less than a week of two more pioneers, this rate of progress will be doubled which means that, with the pioneers working steadily night and day, the company will build 120 miles of track in a week. Telegraph lines are being kept well up with the construction.

Keep Minard's Liniment in the house.

Impudent Jack

Delle—I don't speak to Jack any more.

Nelle—What's the trouble?
Delle—I told him the ladies' aid approved the way I dressed my hair, and he had the impudence to ask if it was ratified.

Explained It.

First little innocent: "I wonder why they call notices in church of people about to be married 'putting up the bans? What are the bans?"

Second little innocent (confidently): "Short for 'husbans,' of course, dear. After marriages, you know, they're put down."

MANLESS EDEN

Froissy, Near Paris is Suffragette's Paradise

Not fifty miles from Paris is a small town called Froissy, which is literally run by women. This is not because the women are women with views but simply because the town is a town with needs, and there are no men there to fill the needs. Froissy is in the heart of an agricultural province, and all the on-coming young farmers have migrated to more promising lands. Only the old men remain, and what with the plough and the reaper they are kept too busy to give any attention to municipal affairs, much less hold offices. So they have turned over the reins of village government, chariot, steeds and all to the women. The mayor is a woman and the superintendent of the railway station is a woman; the mail-carrier is a woman and so is the village barber. The switchman is a switchwoman, and the postmaster is a postmistress. The telegraph messenger boy is named Mme. Lesebore. When a proclamation from the mayor is to be heralded abroad the drummer-boy of Froissy who is a drummer-girl, sallies forth and sounds a rat-tat on her kettle-drum. This city official is a sturdy octogenarian Mme. Druhou-Marchandin, who has held her post through wind and rain for years. The official letter-carrier too, has been in office for ten years. Her name is Mme. Dou-bour.

Froissy is only five miles from Montreuil, in the Department of the Somme, and almost half-way between Amiens to the north and Paris to the south. It is said to be the one civilized community in which municipal affairs have been delegated entirely to women.

Full of Experience

Here is a story that the movement for good bridges has revived. A man applied for a job in a nursery. "Do you know anything about grafting?" he was asked. "Well, I'll admit that I know something about it," said he. "I was county commissioner the year we let so many contracts for bridges." Kansas City Journal.

Cursory

A huntsman called on Hodge to settle for damage done by a run to hounds, and found only Mrs. Hodge at home.

"Has your husband," he enquired, "made an examination yet?"

"That he have, sir," replied Mrs. Hodge with a curtesy.

"Rather a cursory examination, I suspect?"

"Oh, dreadful, sir! Such languidness I never heard—never!" And the good woman held up her hands at the bare recollection.

Little Mary was in the habit of posting her mother's letters in the pillar box. One day a friend called and asked the child's mother what Mary was going to be when she grew up. "Oh," said the mother, "I shall—and get her into the Post Office."

"Oh, mums," cried the horrified child, "I should never be able to get in there!"

Longest Span Bridge

It is claimed for the new double-deck bridge which is now nearly completed across the Missouri river at Kansas City that it is the longest span riveted bridge as yet constructed, the length of the main span being 425 feet. The striking novelty of the structure is the fact that the lower platform can be raised against the floor by means of power-operated cables, drums and concrete counterweights. The vertical travel of the platform is 46 feet, and it is raised and lowered by two 250 horse-power motors.

THE ACUTE PAIN FROM NEURALGIA

Permanently Cured Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Neuralgia is not a disease—it is only a symptom, but a very painful one. It is the surest sign that your blood is weak, watery and impure, and that your nerves are literally starving. Bad blood is the one cause—good, rich blood the only cure. There you have the real reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure neuralgia. They are the only medicine that contains in correct proportions the elements needed to make rich, red blood. This new blood reaches the root of the trouble, soothes the jangled nerves, drives away the nagging, stabbing, pain and braces up your health in other ways. Among the sufferers from neuralgia, cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, is Mrs. Chas. Brown, Durham, Ont., who says: "For months I suffered intensely from neuralgia. The pain in my head and face at times was so great as to be almost unbearable. I tried two doctors, and many remedies, without finding a cure, as there seemed to be no let-up to the pain. Finally I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I began their use. Soon I found the pains becoming less and after taking the pills for some weeks the trouble entirely disappeared and has not since bothered me."

If you are suffering from any blood or nerve trouble begin to cure yourself to-day with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

AROUND THE TOWN

A fishing party composed of Messrs. Patterson, P. Reed and A. G. Howe paid a visit to the Fallen Timber creek on the 24th of May, returning on Monday. They, of course, have the big fish story of the season, and, be-jabbers, there must be something in it, too, because one of their horses died suddenly while there, either of fright at the size of the fish or because his heart failed him at thinking of the hard trip bringing the fish home.

The Golden West hotel has again changed ownership, Mr. J. A. Quirk of Calgary, brother of Dr. Quirk of that city, having taken over the house on Monday.

The Cloverhill Creamery is paying 83c per lb. for butterfat for the month of May and returns the buttermilk.

Card of Thanks

The Didsbury Citizens Band wish to thank the Overseas Club, the Neapolis band boys, and all those who took such an active interest in the recent celebration for their benefit; also Messrs. Corny Hiebeit, H. Wiegand and Bert Cressman for refreshments supplied by them to the band.

E. PERSCHACKER,
Sec.-Treas of Band.

Two Sad Deaths

Two deaths in one day was the toll the grim reaper collected in Didsbury on Tuesday and both were little children. The first one, which took place early in the morning, was that of Hugh Eric, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Kalbfleisch, who had only suffered through stomach trouble about a week before his death. The second one occurred about 11 a. m., when Roberta Dowdell, the little flaxen haired four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dowdell succumbed to the after effects of diphtheria.

Both children were bright little ones and were greatly liked by every one who knew them. The parents of both the little ones have the heartfelt sympathy of the whole community in their sad loss.
